Chapter Sixty Three

3:27:2020
1:18 P.M.
Friday

The sanctity of all life forms is paramount. Disregarding any life form because it isn't human (yet) is man's arrogance. God is literally in absolutely everything, from the smallest cell to the most complex animal. Humans were originally assigned the role of being guardians to the plants and creatures of the planet. They took this to mean that they were superior and that these other forms were somehow lesser. Being a guardian does not mean being superior. It does however, entail making decisions for their welfare.

Many things in this regard were considered radical not so long ago; no kill animal shelters, not using man made poisonous chemicals, promoting birth control among house pets like cats and dogs and organic farming.

Now animals that are used as a food source are treated has become more widely accepted as a spiritual idea. Things like having free range chickens and cows that are only fed grass have made their way into the mainstream.

Using real fur for fashion has gone by the wayside as has many forms of sport hunting. The idea of hunting for animal control only is more of a norm in many areas of the world.

I speak of these things today because these are all ideas that come from an individual soul and then spread to other souls. These are examples of how mature souls can influence other souls and help them to grow and develop. These are also examples of how human behavior does matter and how being more identified with the soul or with love, positively affects all of God's Creations.

Chapter Sixty four

3·27·2020
7:37 P.M.
Friday

There's an old saying... The early bird catches the worm. It is appropriate now because it implies dedication and commitment. These are virtues that each of you have demonstrated time and time again with how you have approached your spiritual learning.

There have been plenty of early mornings and late nights alike studying my books and the wisdom they were able to impart. Each of you showed up, even when what you read made you want to toss the book across the room or even set it on fire and throw the ashes into the trash. You showed up because your soul was waking up from a deep slumber and was starting to take control.

Your true self showed up and it hasn't backed down, despite setbacks, despite periods of doubt on whether any of this had any shred of truth in it.

This book is being written because you each need to have that fire, that passion reignited. The fires have dimmed. New logs need to be thrown into the fire. Some have become complicent. Some have gotten lost in the forest of the world and some have simply stopped caring, choosing blissful ignorance first and foremost.

This is a gathering of the tribe. The 144,000 spoken of in the Bible refers to us; a relatively small group who have saved themselves from themselves. They are one united soul, unwavering in their dedication to love and being of service to God.

Chapter Sixty five

3·28·2020
9:12 A.M.
Saturday

Share what you have. You don't own anything. Everything is to share, repurpose and recycle. The human world has made great inroads in the areas of recycling and composting. Artists use trash to make interesting pieces of art and people are making homes out of old shipping containers. Composting produces nutrient rich soil that sustains plant life. These are all ideas that originated from a single soul and then spread to others, but not without resistance of course.

Companies often fear widespread implementation of new ideas because they fear that their bottom line will be affected. One thing that has not changed much over time is the all mighty dollar and more importantly, peoples belief that money will provide security in an ever changing world.

The world that you live in is different than it was before the 1950s. It is more open and less rigid about small and large things. We can't proceed with expanding our love movement in pre 1950s conditions and yet collective fear wants to take society back to that time. Political movements across the world, usually known as right wing populism, have raised their ugly heads and are moving at a rapid pace toward authoritarianism and the rejection of all liberal principles, including the rule of law. The country of Russia is their model and inspiration.

This development may make our work somewhat more difficult. We require freedom of speech and freedom of assembly. There may be difficult days ahead but we must not forget that large segments of our society are on our side. They have tasted the liberation of personal freedom of expression and they won't give that up at any cost. They may not really "get" us but they will like our soulful ideas.

Chapter Sixty Six

3-28-2020
2:58 p.m.
Saturday

The gloss is always half full. This is how a mature soul or Christ always looks at everything. We find the good in every diabolical situation because it's there. There is good in everyone; even in those you say "only a mother could love."

Goodness sometimes gets trapped by fear and it doesn't know how to get out. Fear cannot harm goodness. Your soul cannot be harmed in any way, shape or form. This is why I said in previous volumes that You cannot truly be hurt. The real You, your soul, the aspect of God, cannot be harmed.

The same cannot be said of the body of course. All kinds of things can happen to it. Mine was nailed to wood and suspended from the air. Equally ghoulish things have happened to countless bodies through the ages. I don't need to go into detail here. Most all of you have watched the nightly news, horror movies and read history books.

The point is that identification with the soul will protect you from ~~the pain of~~ experiencing any type of pain to the body. That's what my crucifiction was for. It was a gift to all of the Christs who follow in my footsteps in the mellenia to come; immunity.

Once the soul has literally taken over the body, the body becomes property of the soul. The body is no longer ~~of~~ an image of an ego but instead, an image of the soul. The body will then be a servant to Spirit. It then, cannot be harmed and will enjoy the fruits of spirit: perfect joy, perfect health and abundance (enough to share).

Chapter Sixty Seven

3·28·2020
7:54 P.M
Saturday

There's a difference between being selfless and being Selfish with a capital S. Selfless people give to other small selves without regard for their own wellbeing. They are wonderful. They are the ones who will give the shirt off their backs and do just about anything for Someone.

What we are promoting is a little more radical; being Selfish or being strictly concerned with the one Self or the individual soul aspect. You are now in relationship to everyone and everything. You know from A Course in Miracles that giving and receiving are one in truth. So, this type of giving is not at all like giving someone your shirt and you then being without that shirt. This is like giving someone your shirt and that same shirt that you gave away is then immediately replaced, without cost or effort of any type.

Selfish people with a capital S give to others because they realize that they are really giving to themselves. This type of giving is primarily done as a spiritual extention or blessing but it can also involve material goods of some type. The Bible says "Give unto others and it shall be given unto you." How this works cannot be explained in words but if you are reading this book now, I know that you understand. You can each tell mysterious stories about your experiences with this concept.

Carry on and let us worry about the details!

Chapter Sixty Eight

3·29·2020
9:24 A.M.
Sunday

Clear the fog from your minds and be ready at a seconds notice to respond to our directions. We are a mighty machine and each cog has to be in good working order.

Sustained Christ Consciousness means that it needs minimal input from outside sources such as books and audio recordings. The internal energy is strong enough that it does not need much external support. It has become a fully functioning Sun.

Maintained Christ Consciousness means that training wheels are required as are a host of seen and unseen helpers. Channeled books and inspired books are our primary ways of providing maintainance.

Like all things pertaining to spiritual growth, moving from maintainance to sustainance is a long process that usually has difficulty embedded in it. It can be likened to being awakened to being enlightened.

There are some of you who are sustaining Christ Consciousness and are truly enlightened. Most of you are at the maintainance level. When everything is in place and all pieces of the pie are ready, the shift will be made. There's nothing you can do to speed up your process. It will take the amount of time that it needs, not a second more and not a second less.

Enlightenment is an end point of sorts, at least here on earth. It's when there is no "you". People will still recognize "you" and "you" will still shop, do laundry and manage "your" money but it isn't an identity. Being Christ or an aspect of God is your identity.

Chapter Sixty Nine

3:29:2020
3:57 P.M.
Sunday

The heart is what I wish to speak of at this time. Some think following your heart is foolish. They prefer a more analytical approach. What do I mean by "heart"? I am not referring to the organ that bumps blood throughout the body.

The heart that I am talking about is actually synonomous with soul. The soul does not have a brain like the body does. The soul does not have separate organs and does not have liquid running through it. It does not process food to create energy.

The Souls energy comes from something it is actually connected to; source energy, usually referred to as God. God activates all Souls from within, not from without.

Souls do not have emotions, which stem from the bodys brains thoughts. Souls have a deep knowing about everything they are involved in. They also have a deep set of feelings connected to this knowing or awareness.

Thoughts and resulting emotions are entirely different from knowing and feeling. A humans thoughts run the gammet but are typically either fear based or neutral. A humans feelings range from happy to sad and everything inbetween but they really are simply emotional reactions to either internal or external thoughts (things you read or other people tell you).

A Souls knowing always comes from God and is 100% love based. A Souls feelings are also from God and always loving in nature. Remember, love accepts lack of love or void, so a deep soul level knowing may provide an unflattering truth but the resulting feeling will always be love and acceptance, followed up with a blessing, which is an extention of your love to an individual, group of individuals or situation, in order to further support and nurture development in your sisters and brothers.

Chapter Seventy

3·29·2020
8:43 P.M.
Sunday

Stand up and be counted. Be part of the solution to the problem, instead of the problem itself. Shout this from the rooftops. There is something very real inside all bodies, all forms. The eternal soul wants to claim dominion on the earth after being shut out for millions of years.

A human body being consciously driven by a soul will produce very different effects than one being driven by ego. Show your love and consideration for all of creation and be patient with your sisters and brothers. They don't know what they do, to quote the Bible again. It really isn't their fault that they think and behave as they do. Show them that there really is a different way by simply living the new way, the way of Mary. When called to action, show others the way of Jesus, in a way and manner that only you can do.

Chapter Seventy One

3·30·2020
9:43 A.M.
Monday

Music and artistic expressions of all types originate from the soul. They rarely, however, remain a pure expression of love. Like everything else, they get hijacked by the mind and turned into an expression of mind but there is soul in every kind of music, art, film and theater, however small and negligable.

Different kinds of music touch different types of people. When a song really touches someone, it touches their heart and makes them feel a connection to the performer and song writer.

Artists cause "explosions in the house of illusion" as first taught in A Course of Love. They make people feel more alive and feed souls that would starve without it.

You see, its hard to be a Soul here in this world. They just dont get a break and are seldom listened to. Music and art are things that souls crave. Souls are like cacti living in a vast dessert. They need nourishment from somewhere.

We have provided nourishment in the form of our books but now a new type of nourishment will be available and it will come from you. Mature souls are the missing link that can provide what spiritual books, mindfulness, meditation and yoga cannot.
