You may have heard about something called the Hero's Journey. It's where many of you are at this juncture. You lost yourself to find yourself. What a sweet journey it's been too. There's been drama, excitement, ho-hum days and maybe a little danger sprinkled in. You've played your assigned roles and played some you assigned to yourself.

Now what? Is your journey finished? I'm telling you now that it is only just beginning. The hero's journey will continue in a spectacularly magical way. Your new role is to light the way for those who have gotten lost in this oftentimes frightening adventure. Love will serve as your flashlight.

There isn't a medal or trophy at the end of the Hero's Journey. There is however, the pleasure of knowing that you are serving the Creator of All Things in the highest and most noble manner possible.

With Gratitude

Chapter One Hundred Thirty One

Thursday, July 2, 2020
3:04 P.M.

Picture yourself walking on a beach. It's a beautiful summer day. The weather and temperature are both perfect. This is how everyday can be for you. You can walk the earth without a care in the world.

Picture yourself walking down a city street. It's a beautiful day. The weather is cloudy and the temperature is cool. It may be early fall. You are without a single worry.

In either of the above scenarios, you are present in the now moment. You walk the beach or the sidewalk as a mature soul in union with God Herself. Your purpose is no longer solely about you.

As you travel through your part of the world, your new focus is on others. What do you see? What don't you see? Train yourself to take notice of the details. What is the woman's energy like today? What may be behind the man's angry scowl?

Smile and bless them both. What if you notice someone in distress? What can you do to help them? What if a friend needs a shoulder to cry on? Will you be there for them?

Walking the earth as deity has responsibility attached to it. Expressing love is paramount and ^{fore} first most in priority to a light worker.

Now do you express your godliness? There is no right way or wrong way. There is no judgement or evaluation. There is just love in response to love, in wonderful ways that only you can do.

Let's take things to the next level. Remember how we used the analogy about how life on earth is like millions and millions of plays, all going on simultaneously, with billions of characters playing multitudes of roles, all learning how to love selflessly, feeling peaceful when they do and suffering when they don't?

What do you think ^{would happen} when a Mary or a Jesus character arrives on set? Then what? How would something as monumental as this affect a particular play? Wouldn't it accentuate and accelerate the development of the characters and influence outcomes?

If the love of God arrived in your neighborhood as a mature soul, disguised as your neighbor, how could there not be massively positive effects for everyone in the neighborhood?

- This is what is about to happen. Stay tuned for your cues to arrive on set.

Chapter One Hundred Thirty Three

Friday, July 3, 2020
3:24 P.M.

Now do you live in two places at once? You are seen here but you dwell with us in the world of spirit. Ask us how to be of service. Where should you go? What should you do? What should you say once there? What supplies or resources will you need?

We take care of our own. You will have what you need when you need it, including information. Through union, you have a direct line to us. You can think of us as being on the mothership. Union is your invisible form of communication to your spirit helpers, to your team, whose sole purpose and job is to support the work that you do on our behalf.

Because you can't see us, the temptation to doubt our existence will always be there but we are the reason why you are here. We are your power. You are not only a representation of us. You are us. You are more of a "we" than an "I".

A star cannot truly shine without a supporting cast and crew. We will be asking you to be a "surprise guest" in other characters' plays, tv shows and movies. Expect the unexpected because not only will "you" be showing up but so will "we". The entire plot can change due to the power of love that is being infused.

This is why we have asked you to have your life review and go through the atonement process over the past many years. We need a clear channel so that our input will be at optimum level.

Expect the unexpected when we start appearing in your life. The more you open up to us, the more unexpected surprises will arrive. You will discover gifts that you didn't know you had and these gifts will grow expeditiously over time. Souls have access to things that the human mind doesn't.

Maybe you will discover that ~~the~~ you can read the energy field around a human, known as an aura. Maybe you can hear us communicating with you as if we were physically in the same space, talking to you face to face. Maybe you know things that no one has ever told you and that you couldn't have known any other way.

These are just some of the fruits of spirit. The physical fruits include abundance, perfect joy and perfect health. These are your birthrights. They don't cost anything except the willingness to receive them.

Bless you. Your willingness will be magnified beyond belief.

Chapter One Hundred Thirty five

Saturday, July 4, 2020
3:42 P.M.

So many people pray to me for help with a wide variety of life's situations. I need your help with this. I need you to help me to help those who ask and those who don't. I need you to join with me. The physical and the spiritual joined together ^{are} a mighty powerful force.

I have written my books to help free you to be happy. Now I am asking you to repay the favor. The truth was given to you and now I simply ask that you join with me in union and in service to help heal the world, one person at a time.

It's the opportunity of a lifetime. I need you as much as you need me. We can't do it without each other.

Together, we can sow seeds and manifest miracles. The more saints or lightworkers there are, the more effective I can be.

Thank you for your dedication and diligence ~

Chapter One Hundred Thirty Six

11:21 A.M.

You are a vessel for the divine spirit now, not a slave to the brain's thoughts about everything. This is a monumental change in purpose, one that is nothing short of revolutionary. The brain tells you that maybe you can be elected into political office one day. Your divine spirit informs you that you are already queen of the galaxies. There is nothing else to want or aspire to but there is work to do here in this very imperfectly perfect world that we all created together, a world that asks to be understood and accepted as it is, not as you wish it was. Transformation does not come from refusing to see and acknowledge what stands before you. Transformation comes from accepting and loving what stands before you, warts and all. This is the power of love.

It is said here that there are people that "only a mother can love". We say that everyone can be loved equally by everyone, unconditionally. Any questions?

Chapter One Hundred Thirty Seven

Sunday, July 5, 2020
3:31 P.M.

You live in such a noisy world with chaotic sound coming from every direction. We live and move in stillness. How can you merge the two states of being? You are becoming more and more like us. You are able to be still for periods of time. All answers to the chaos of the world lie in the stillness.

The formless world sounds like it may be a boring place compared to yours but it is rich and vibrant, filled with texture and adventure. The more you explore it, the more fascinating it becomes.

Wherever you are, whether you are standing or sitting, allow the light from our world^{to} fill every cell in your body. Stay in this state for as long as you can and as often as you can. Explore the depth of this light. Notice that it goes on and on and never ends. What do you discover? Who do you find in the light?

Our world is actually made up of individual rays of light that work together to make up the whole. You just found and experienced your own divine light. The more you turn it on and explore it, the stronger it gets. It has been called the Holy Spirit, your true self, the Divine Rey and others. This is what you really are. To be in close identification with this light while you are in form is known as the Elevated Self of form.
