The Akashic Records are only a single aspect of the Christ Mind. Other aspects include methodology for the delivery of gifts, storage for unopened gifts and processing for requests. The Christ Mind is the God centered control center for a cadre of souls. It covers not only the earth but all territories where souls express in form. Some territories are considered friendlier and easier for soul development than others. The earth is one of the most difficult but not the most difficult. It scales in the bottom 25% on a scale from easiest to most difficult.

All souls who plan on incarnating here know that it is not going to be an easy ride. Giving love here involves receiving a lot of resistance, not as much from others as from your own body/mind vehicle that you are activating.

The earth's beauty is a big draw as is its familiarity. Souls tend to want to come back to a canvas that they have used before, even though conditions change over time. 2020 is different than 1980 or 1900 or 1800. Where in the world a character is located and the race, education and socio-economic conditions of it also play into the level of difficulty. A soul can play a character with a difficult personality, difficult conditions, difficult castmates, on one of the most difficult worlds and yet somehow, they manage to pull it off a good amount of the time.

Different worlds experience time in different ways. Human brains think of linear time. Things here, including bodies, age over time. Yet, in reality, there is only now. The past could be considered a collection of former nows. There is no future yet. It hasn't been created yet. That now moment is not here yet.

None of us know exactly what the future now may look like but there are probabilities that are likely possibilities.

You could say that God reproduces itself to have a multitude of experiences to strengthen itself before it returns to itself. This is what really transpires here and on other worlds. It hasn't always been a happy ending for some of our projects, however. Souls always return home eventually. But you see we want the earth to be our home too. We want this earth project to be as much of our home as the non-physical world is. We want to come to the earth to create and extend love, without any resistance. The time for ~~that~~^{resistance} has come and gone. Egoic identity has had its place. God created egos too. It's just that creation always moves forward. It's love's time to "take over" so to speak.

Without this, there is a good probability that our beautiful earth project could fail. It wouldn't be the first to do so but we have much more of our collective effort invested on the earth than on any other project, which is why it is so ~~dear~~ dear to us.

The drum has been sounded for all who know the truth to represent it fully 24/7. Everything has to become all about love. This sounds very serious and it is in a way but we actually want you to stop being so serious. Enjoy the rest of your time here, serving love, which means giving and receiving are one in truth. Have fun giving love. If you know ahead of time that you will be entering some kind of serious situation then determine to go in with love and lightness and come out with even more love and lightness.

The two states that I first taught in A Course of Love: The House of Illusion and the House of Truth are both in full existence now. However, members of the House of Truth will be called now more than ever to enter the House of Illusion to influence those inside it. You have heard of the term "influencer" on social media, which usually has to do with brand promotion, style and sometimes political agendas. We want each mature soul to promote love by simply being it.

Everyone will wonder what drugs you are on to be so happy and carefree all of the time. This is how everyone can be all of the time. All they have to do is follow your lead and let go of the idea of control and having a separate will.

Having a unified will, emerged in love, is much more fun!

Love is responsible. It is not at all the same as an irresponsible person not caring about tomorrow or what it may bring. This person knows there may be significant consequences for today's wild behavior and is willing to take the risk. A responsible person would not engage in such behavior because he does not want to experience the consequences. A person in love or a mature soul never thinks in terms of consequences because love always informs him or her what the next right thing to do is. There never are any consequences, only more love. Again, love does not fall into the "If this, then that" category. Love is "as within, so without", so loving actions always produce loving results, not negative consequences.

Do you remember a time when you prayed to God about something that was unsettling to you at the time? Did you receive the help that you requested? If you did not, did this make you bitter toward God?

When you were studying A Course in Miracles and you requested a miracle and failed to recognize it when it arrived, did you blame God for not caring about you?

When you read A Course of Love and spent 40 days on the mountain with me, did it give you new faith in the relationship I have with you and the one you have with me and with God?

I bring up these questions at this time because spiritual relationships are like human relationships sometimes in that there can be misunderstandings and bumps in the road if one partner in the relationship is moving from a mind based experience to a heart or soul based experience.

Now you are my full partner in spirit but please don't forget your own metamorphosis. You will need to remember it and keep it front and center when you are working with your brothers and sisters. They will experience their own bumps in the road from time to time.

What helped you through a spiritual crisis? What resources can you share? Now that you know who you are in truth, as you stand before your sister as an aspect of God, use your power to bring what is needed. This is probably something you never had when you could have used it. You thought God was out there somewhere and never guessed that God could stand right in front of you.

It isn't wrong to think of yourself as a person. You have to do that before you're ready for a more expansive view of yourself and understanding of the world. This kind of thinking has to be interrupted in order for something to take its place, though.

Introduce yourself as a person without labels. You aren't "weight challenged," "health conscious," "traditional," "progressive" or some of the newer ones like "cis-gender," "non-binary" or "anti-fascist."

You live under the umbrella of love and can choose how you express moment to moment. All expressions under this umbrella are loving versions of your soul, which may in fact be some of the above things some of the time. It's just that love doesn't require identity stamps, which are largely for other people's approval or disapproval.

You are free. You are free. You are free from labels and the expectations that accompany them. Put labels and restrictions in that box with regrets and worries and get rid of it please.

11:02 A.M.

Emotions are generated from thoughts and can be deeply felt but not all emotions are from love, just as not all thoughts are from love. I have asked you to become more aware of your feelings, each and every one of them, no matter what the type. This was deliberate on my part. This was our collective movement away from mind and all of its thoughts.

The next step is to ask where the thought that produced the emotion or feeling came from. Why is it in your brain and where did it come from?

Is it possible to only produce loving thoughts and quickly identify all other thoughts for what they are: neutral or calls for love? It is possible to only feel love all of the time? I say that yes, it is possible and is imperative that each of you learn how to do this.

You have been taught and continue to teach each other that if you want to be labeled as a "Kind" and "Caring" person, then you must feel as bad or perhaps worse about a challenging situation than those directly involved. I say pick this weed out as soon as it takes root. It is utter nonsense.

Get the facts, identify any actions that may be needed, bless those involved, see the situation as a potential learning opportunity ~~for~~ at the soul level and keep your peace and love at maximal level.

Your brain may think this is callous but it is the only way to stay in your sovereign self and not lose your freedom. Feeling "bad" or feeling anyway but "fantastic" is not coming from love and is a very common trap.

Please be bold and refuse to get pulled into everything that is happening in the world. Provide the love response but don't let these situations drag you into the mud.

Chapter One Hundred Seventy Eight

Sunday, July 19, 2020
3:36 P.M.

A human lifestyle driven by love all of the time will look different than the ones you are all used to. The love lifestyle does not care in the slightest what anyone thinks. The standard, default lifestyle is entirely concerned with getting both external and internal approval.

Love doesn't seek approval because it knows that no one is there to grant it. Love never says "no" to itself. It always says "yes."

Love ^{really isn't} doesn't knock on doors, asking for permission to enter. There ~~isn't~~ ^{really isn't} ~~anybody~~ anyone to answer the door. Love has a free pass. It can do what it wants, when it wants to and how it wants to.

A soul may decide that a mind/body vehicle has reached its capacity level for love for the time being. If that happens, receiving more love will wait awhile. It doesn't go anywhere. It just waits to be received when ~~the~~ ^{the} density of fear decreases enough so that there is space for it.

Don't pay much attention to what characters do or don't do. Instead, use your gauge of their energy as a way to take their temperature and see how their soul growth is going. Soul doctors only prescribe one type of medication, which is love. Love cures everything.

Living here is complicated isn't it? We are asking you to understand the human condition and not be at all bothered by it at the same time. We are ~~also~~ asking you to understand your own human qualities and soul qualities and have a good understanding of how life here really works.

We don't ask that you believe in a God but that you know at the deepest level that you are part of God. If God knows that she is God and she knows that she is here on the great and majestic planet earth, then how can things here not transform in the most perfectly splendid way? We leave you with this interesting question to ponder.

Good night my loves ~

I cannot build a Skyscraper by myself. I need armies of workers and a high level of coordination. I need top notch architects, materials and quality control. Each of you are like a skyscraper. ~~and a lot~~ ^{so much} has gone into this project from the initial planning stages to the steady layers of construction.

The skyscraper that you are can withstand earthquakes, hurricanes and tornados. You know who you are and what you are. You know who you arent and what you arent. You know who you represent.

You are a shining beacon in the fog, a testament to the power of love. You are ready to move forward with me and all of your brothers and sisters onto a journey into the unknown.

It is with great gratitude that I thank each reader of this book for your time, willingness and dedication.

Blessed Be ~
